

Sociedades Antigas do Oriente Médio e África

VAMOS CONHECER UM POUCO MAIS SOBRE OS POVOS DA ANTIGUIDADE ORIENTAL?

Como você já deve ter visto, as sociedades da Mesopotâmia fizeram parte das sociedades Orientais, agora nós iremos conhecer um pouco mais das outras sociedades que se localizavam no continente africano e no oriente. Vejamos então quem são essas sociedades:

QUEM SÃO AS OUTRAS SOCIEDADES DO ORIENTE?

HEBREUS

O povo Hebreu se localizava na região da Palestina, chamada pelos Hebreus de Canaã onde atualmente é o Estado de Israel. Essa região era banhada pelo rio Jordão por isso suas terras próximas ao rio eram favoráveis ao desenvolvimento da agricultura, mas o território também era composto por regiões montanhosas e inférteis.

A História do povo hebreu está ligada a Bíblia, é através do novo testamento que estabelecemos relações e conhecimentos sobre esse povo. Ao contrário das outras sociedades antigas, os hebreus eram Monoteístas, isso é, eles acreditavam apenas em um Deus, esse chamado de Iavé ou Jeová. Ao longo do tempo os hebreus foram migrando de região por motivos de conflitos e de seca, tendo nessas mudanças de território diversos acontecimentos registrados na bíblia, como o registro dos Dez Mandamentos.

A política dessa sociedade se dividiu em três formas de Governo: O patriarcado, primeira forma de governo dos Hebreus era composto por chefes militares, sacerdotes e juizes; O juizado, segunda forma de governo, composta por chefes militares; o terceiro foi a Monarquia que possuía apenas um governante que detinha de todo poder.

Após um longo período de estabilidade política, a morte do Rei Salomão fez com que a região se dividisse em dois territórios: Israel e Judá, local de onde surgem os judeus.

Com a divisão dos territórios os hebreus se tornaram vulneráveis as invasões de outros povos, como os mesopotâmicos, Persas, gregos e romanos que os expulsaram do seu território.

O QUE OS HEBREUS NOS DEIXAM DE LEGADO?

Os Hebreus nos deixaram diversas heranças da presença de sua sociedade como o judaísmo e o cristianismo.

Outro legado dos Hebreus foi o Muro das Lamentações, única parte que restou do templo de Jerusalém construído pelos romanos que se encontra na cidade de Jerusalém e é o local de peregrinação de diversas religiões.

FENÍCIOS

A Fenícia se localiza ao norte de Jerusalém, entre o mar mediterrâneo e as montanhas, atualmente essa região corresponde ao Líbano. A sua localização facilitava aos fenícios a navegação e o comércio, eles são conhecidos como Povo do Mar.

O conhecimento da astronomia pelos Fenícios possibilitou o domínio das rotas de comércio marítimo. O uso da matemática e as estrelas para a navegação fez com que os fenícios estabelecessem diversos pontos de comércio ao longo do mar mediterrâneo. A geografia do território dos fenícios não possibilitava a centralização do poder em apenas um governante, entretanto, sua organização política era através das chamadas Cidades-estados, que eram cidades independentes. Os Fenícios viveram ao mesmo tempo que os Hebreus e Persas, tendo muitas trocas comerciais e conflitos entre eles.

Devido a grande exploração marítima dos fenícios, os contatos com outros povos e culturas era vasto, isso possibilitava o politeísmo, isso é, os fenícios acreditavam em vários Deuses, e sua cultura era uma mistura de várias outras que eles haviam contactado através do comércio marítimo.

PERSAS

Os Persas formaram o maior Império do Oriente Antigo, seu território se expandia do mar mediterrâneo até o oceano Índico. Sua localização principal era ao leste da Mesopotâmia, uma região seca com montanhas, desertos e poucas regiões férteis. Atualmente essa região é chamada de Irã.

Antes de se tornar um grande império, a população persa se mantinha através do pastoreio e nos poucos vales férteis se cultivava cereais, frutas e hortaliças. Após a construção do Império a economia era através do comércio de metais, tecidos e tapeçarias. Existiam grandes recursos minerais com metais preciosos como o ferro, cobre e prata. Havia dois povos nessa região, os Medos ao norte e ao sul os Persas, eles se encontravam em constantes conflitos, até que Ciro, um nobre Persa, venceu os Medos e unificou os povos dando início ao Império.

O Império Persa tinha como forma de governo o monárquico teocrático, isso é, havia apenas um líder que detinha de todo o poder político e religioso. Com a consolidação do império se fez necessário dividir as regiões de domínio para melhor administrar, foram 20 no total, essas regiões se chamavam Satrapias e possuíam um sátrapa, um nobre indicado pelo imperador para recolher os impostos do território.

VOCÊ DEVE ESTÁ SE PERGUNTANDO "COMO ELES FAZIAM COMÉRCIO SE NÃO FALAVAM A MESMA LÍNGUA?"

Os fenícios desenvolveram um alfabeto que nós contemporâneos utilizamos como base para nossa escrita. Esse alfabeto tinha 22 símbolos que representavam as consoantes, os gregos utilizaram como base essa forma de alfabeto e acrescentaram mais símbolos que vão representar as vogais.

O uso desse alfabeto possibilitou a organização do comércio e das navegações. Os fenícios eram especialistas em produção de moedas o que facilitava nas suas trocas e vendas no comércio.

ATIVIDADE

Na aula de hoje você conheceu algumas sociedades antigas do Oriente, e viram como cada uma construiu sua sociedade.

Você terá que encontrar as palavras no caça-palavras e escolher quatro delas para escrever um texto sobre cada uma. O texto deve ser de sua autoria, ou seja, deve escrever com suas palavras o significado de cada uma delas.

Antiguidade Oriental

As palavras deste caça palavras estão escondidas na horizontal, vertical e diagonal.
